JEWELERS OF AMERICA CODE OF PROFESSIONAL PRACTICES

The Jewelers of America mission is to increase consumer confidence in the jewelry industry by advocating professionalism and adherence to high ethical, social and environmental standards. A condition of membership in Jewelers of America is an annual commitment to the Code of Professional Practices. The Code of Professional Practices establishes the standards our members enthusiastically endorse in theory and practice. Jewelers of America members strive to achieve these practices throughout their day-to-day business operations. Members encourage these practices within their “spheres of influence” – supply-chain relationships, the wider jewelry industry and the world in which the member and their business partners operate.

ETHICAL PRACTICES

- We will conform to all applicable law in the jurisdictions where we operate.
- We will conduct our business with honesty, sincerity, truthfulness, integrity and transparency.
- We will not engage in bribery and/or corruption. We will work to protect the industry and our clients against fraud, misrepresentation and unethical business practices.
- We will not tolerate money laundering and/or financing of terrorism. If applicable to our business, we will have an anti-money laundering (AML) program in place to fully comply with the USA Patriot Act.
- We will make every effort to ensure that we do not deal in the flow of conflict diamonds. We will fully comply with the Kimberley Process Certification Scheme and the World Diamond Council System of Warranties.
- We will fully and accurately disclose the material characteristics of the products and merchandise we sell.
- We will take reasonable measures to ensure the physical integrity and security of product shipments.
- We will respect commercial confidentiality and the data privacy of our employees, business partners and customers.
- We will strive to continuously improve our professionalism and expertise, as individuals and as a company.

SOCIAL AND HUMAN RIGHTS PRACTICES

- We will respect the fundamental human rights of all our employees, business partners and customers.
- We will conform to all applicable laws related to labor practices with regard to workers’ rights and protections.
- We are committed to high standards of health and safety in our business.
- We will not discriminate against employees in accordance with applicable law.
- We will prohibit the use of degrading treatment, harassment, abuse, coercion or intimidation in any form in our business.
- We will adhere to all applicable laws related to working hours and compensation.
- We will strive to be good citizens and contribute to the communities in which we do business.
- We will recognize and respect the rights of all indigenous peoples, and the value of their traditional, cultural and social heritage.
